

Your Middle School Child's Long-term Success =
Academic Growth + Real-World Experience + Caring adults

We provide individualized instruction that delivers results—last year's students made 1.67 times the typical growth on the English Language Arts NWEA test

- Students get small-group attention on their level for ELA.
- Students set academic goals and track progress towards NWEA growth through individualized plans.

We provide opportunities to learn from local professionals at companies like Google and United Airlines.

- Students attend apprenticeships two days a week with business professionals where they learn real-world skills.
- Students learn leadership skills and gain insight into what they want to do long-term.

We set individual goals with your child and check in with them throughout the school day.

- Students set long-term goals for high school and college acceptance and work towards those goals.
- In addition to after school, we check in on students, working directly with their classroom teacher.
